

MUNICIPALITIES AND GOVERNMENT FACILITIES

PROPERTY RESTORATION SERVICES

When disaster strikes, municipalities must have a thorough recovery plan in place. The recovery process includes restoring public facilities and infrastructure as well as the coordination of available services to citizens and businesses impacted by the disaster.

There must be an assessment of long-term shelter and housing needs, security, public assistance, damage assessment, debris management, public facilities and services, and the coordination of resources.

For more than 70 years, BELFOR has helped small and large municipalities around the world recover from both man-made and natural disasters.

Working with elected officials, community leaders, and citizens, BELFOR can respond with swift action and a commitment to:

- Return things back to normal.
- Retain community confidence.
- Minimize economic disruption.
